SPRING 2020

FACULTY SPOTLIGHT

REBECCA GOSE

This spring, WIP is highlighting Associate Professor of Dance, Rebecca Gose.

WHAT IS YOUR WIP TEACHING PHILOSOPHY?

RG: Everyone can be a writer, and everyone should write! Practicing writing can enhance one's level of engagement with any course/subject area and enhancing our writing makes us all more interesting and interested individuals.

HOW DO YOU PUT THAT PHILOSOPHY INTO PRACTICE?

RG: I try to be encouraging, inclusive, and enthusiastic about the integrated writing components of the class. I make numerous analogies to my students' prior experiences in dance and how those skills can transfer into writing. I try to begin with and draw out what they are curious and passionate about. Ultimately, I want students to come away from this class feeling that improved writing is attainable for each of them and that they are able to successfully develop their ideas into quality written artifacts.
